

Message from the Chief

My name is Stanton Korinek and I am honored to serve as the ninth police chief for the Brecksville Police department. I have had the privilege of being a Brecksville Police officer for over 27 years.

I am a person of few words. I believe our actions are what define us as individuals and collectively as an organization. Our goal is to deliver the best law enforcement service to the Brecksville community that we can. We will accomplish this by developing partnerships with community members with a shared goal of keeping the city safe. We will maintain law and order by enforcing laws fairly and impartially in the best interest of those we are interacting with. We will improve our performance through purposeful training. These are not new concepts, but things we have been doing. The challenge is to develop ways to do these things more effectively and efficiently. The Brecksville Police Department and I look forward to meeting this challenge with your help.

Sincerely,
Stanton Korinek
Chief of Police
